

Support UCLA Athletics Through Your Estate

When our alumni, fans and supporters include UCLA Athletics in their wills or living trusts, the future success of our student-athletes and UCLA Athletics overall is made more secure. These bequests represent future scholarships, academic support, state-of-the-art facilities, nutrition education, equipment and travel support and so much more for our student-athletes.

HOW IT WORKS

- Name The UCLA Foundation as a beneficiary in your estate documents, and direct your gift to UCLA Athletics.
- Choose to give a specific sum or a percentage of your estate in support of UCLA Athletics.
- Additionally, you can give specific assets, including securities, real estate or personal property (artwork, royalties, copyrights, etc.).
- Or, name The UCLA Foundation as the beneficiary of your retirement plan or life insurance policy, and direct your gift to UCLA Athletics.
- UCLA's gift planning team can provide you and your advisors with sample bequest language.

Our legacy is providing invaluable support for our student-athletes that will in turn enhance their ability for success in the classroom, in competition and in the community.
What will your legacy be?

LEARN MORE

If you are interested in making a bequest or would like to share your existing plans, please contact the UCLA Athletics Development Office at: 310-206-3302 | Development@athletics.ucla.edu | woodenathleticfund.com/plannedgiving

UCLA's gift planning professionals are happy to provide you, your legal and financial advisors with personalized information about giving through your will or living trust. Conversations with the university's gift planning team are always confidential and never imply obligation.

